ABSTRACT

In this article, we have reviewed the suggestions, opinions and comments on the organization and implementation of the pre-prescription military training, and we are convinced of this once again. Science, subject, normative documents, which have their basis in today's world, are eternal. Because they have their reasons. Any science that has a basis is an immutable law. Given that the subject of organization of pre-prescription military training is also based on a number of normative documents of the Republic of Uzbekistan, the subject of organization of pre-prescription military training will serve for many years to educate young people in the spirit of military patriotism.
