ABSTRACT

A problem situation is a state of intellectual difficulty, the ways of overcoming which require the search for new ways of activity and the acquisition of new knowledge. If a person realizes what is causing the difficulty and accepts it for a solution, it develops into a problem. On this issue - this is a problem situation accepted for solution.

Ask the scholars what they do not know, And by doing so, you are proving that you have really learned. And if you don't ask them, then - cry, don't cry - You die ignorant: you are your own executioner.
