ABSTRACT

This article deals with the concept of the term, the creation of the theoretical foundations of Uzbek linguistics in the early twentieth century, the formation and development of Uzbek linguistic terminology. There are dozens of other definitions of the term and terminology, in addition to the above, but all of them note that the term is a limited, that is, a special word used in a scientific and technical field. A monographic study of the formation and development of Uzbek linguistic terms on the basis of native language textbooks in general secondary schools provide a perfect and detailed picture of the terminological system.

KEYWORDS: Terminology, Terminology, "Sarf" And "Nahv", Length, Vowel, Consonant, Subject, Terminological Layer, Synonym, Analysis, Definition.
