

DEVELOP IMITATION SKILLS FOR FUTURE ELEMENTARY SCHOOL TEACHERS

Khudaybergenova Zamira Iskakovna*

*Lecturer,

Department of Primary Education, Nukus State Pedagogical Institute,
Samarkand, UZBEKISTAN

DOI: 10.5958/2249-7137.2021.02435.6

ABSTRACT

In modern conditions, it is advisable to use innovative forms of education in order to strengthen the learning activities of students, improve the quality and effectiveness of teaching. Today, practical games, problem-based learning, interactive learning, modular credit system, distance learning, blended learning and master classes are recognized as innovative forms of education.

KEYWORDS: Teacher, Imitation, Skill, Modern Methods.

REFERENCES:

1. Tokhtakhojayeva MKh. Theory of pedagogy. Textbook. Tokhtakhojayeva MKh, Editor. Economy and Finance, 2010.
2. Uskakovna KZ. Technology of Training Future Primary School Teachers to Imitate Real-Life Situations. Technology, 2020;7(19):2020.
3. Bakiyeva H. Methods of working on words in primary school. Istiqlol. 2013