ABSTRACT

This article studies and analyses political reality, which is of great importance, showing not only the basis of political ideology, but also the aspects of its formation. This requires, on the one hand, the study of the ideological processes taking place in the world, their content, and, on the other hand, the study of the linguistic paradigmatic features of political ideology. The role and importance of ideology in the life of society is important, it performs many functions in socio-political life. Indeed, ideology is important from an epistemological point of view in knowing society, human life, the essence of reality.
