ABSTRACT

In addition to accepting the beginning of the hadith translation at the end of the first century AH and the beginning of the second century AH, the emergence of the original hadith works dates back to the first half of the second century AH. Those who deal with the hadiths of the Prophet (peace and blessings of Allaah be upon him) are called those who deal with hadeeths, incidents, stories, and so on. In this regard, the fact that the hadith is synonymous with the Sunnah, which consists of words, verbs and takr, has been strongly proven in this regard. There was an incident with Abu Hurayra and the Messenger of Allaah (peace and blessings of Allaah be upon him) about the first use of the hadeeth in this sense. The word hadith is a very broad concept in terms of terminology and lexicography, and it is a synonym for the word sunnah. Hadiths were not written down by the Companions in the early days, but some Companions like Abu Hurayrah recorded the hadith in pages.
