

THE SOCIAL ROLE OF A WOMAN: HISTORY AND MODERNITY

Ismoilova Nigorakhon Usmonjanovna*

*Lecturer,

Department of Humanities, Namangan State University

Namangan, UZBEKISTAN

Email id: ismoilova_n@umail.uz

DOI: 10.5958/2249-7137.2022.00315.9

ABSTRACT

The article reveals the role and social status of women in society. Information is given that a woman in modern society has a completely different status and vocation, she has other values and needs that make us reconsider our views on the female role in today's world.

KEYWORDS: Woman, Social Status, Female Leaders, Uzbek Women, Emancipation, Protection Of Women's Rights.

REFERENCES

1. Madrakhimova RM. Emancipation of the woman of Uzbekistan and her participation in cultural construction (1917-1939) Abstract of diss. on sois. uch. degree of candidate of historical sciences, Institute of History of the Academy of Sciences of the SSR, Moscow; 1965. p.6.
2. Osokina NS. The struggle of the CPSU for the education and training of female personnel for the socialist industry in the first years of the industrialization of the USSR (1926-1929) Author's abstract of diss. on sois. uch. degree of candidate of historical sciences, Moscow; 1961.pp.13-14.
3. Moroz VA, Averkina TO. Social roles of a modern woman in the presentation of students. International Journal of Applied and Fundamental Research. 2016;(11-4):726-731.
4. Sodirjonov MM. Transformation of Social Capital in Ethnosocial Processes. Science and Innovations in The Xxi Century: Topical Issues, Discoveries And Achievements. 2021. pp 159-161.
5. Sodirjonov MM. Ethno sociological factors of social transformation in modern Uzbekistan. Actual issues of formation and development of scientific space. 2020. pp. 27-34.