

IMPROVING THE SPEAKING ABILITY IN ENGLISH: THE STUDENTS' PERSPECTIVE

Rustamova Adash Eshankulovna*; Khakimova Madina Sidiqjon qizi

*PhD,

Samarkand State Institute of Foreign Languages,
Samarkand, UZBEKISTAN

Student,

Samarkand state institute of Foreign Languages,
Samarkand, UZBEKISTAN

Email id: khakimova@mail.ru

DOI: 10.5958/2249-7137.2022.00011.8

ABSTRACT

This article is about improving the ability of speaking in English and the students' perspective on it. There are several different kinds of methods which can be fruitful in developing students' oral skills. Most essential methods are discussed in this article.

KEYWORDS: Speaking, Oral Skills, Methods, Focal Factor, Perspective

REFERENCE

1. Bygate M. Language teaching, a scheme for teaching education: speaking, UK, Oxford: University Press. 2003. p.56.
2. Carnegie D. The quick and easy way to effective speaking, New York: Association press. 1962. pp.31-32.
3. Aslam M. Teaching of English. New Delhi: Foundation Book. 2003. p.56.
4. Aurangzeb. Teaching literature in language classroom. Peshawar: Peshawar: Art Printers 1992. p.101.
5. Fayyaz M. Evaluation of intermediate text books in govt. colleges of N.W.F.P. (DIPTEIL, Thesis unpublished). 1992. pp.33-34.
6. Hedge T. Teaching and learning in the language classroom, China: Oxford University Press. 2008. pp.47, 49.
7. Commission on the English curriculum. New York: Application century. Crofts, INC. 2009.