

THE IMPORTANCE OF TEACHING CHROMATICS TO STUDENTS

E.R. Shavkiyev***

* Teacher,

Uzbek-Finnish Pedagogical Institute,
Samarkand State University, Samarkand, UZBEKISTAN

Email id: elyorshavqiyev@gmgil.com

DOI: 10.5958/2249-7137.2022.00002.7

---

ABSTRACT

The process of increasing a teacher of fine and applied arts' knowledge, abilities, and competences, as well as professional skills, is discussed in this article. Furthermore, this page contains crucial information regarding chromatics difficulties. There are comments on the colors of national culture traditions and Uzbek architectural structures that have been employed for millennia. Their creation, emblems, and content, as well as their chromatic representation, are all described as having meaning.

KEYWORDS: Madrasah, Color, Decoration, Art, Drawing Patterns, Fine And Applied Arts.

---

REFERENCES:

1. Bulatov S. Painting. T.: Publishing House of the National Society of Philosophers of Uzbekistan. 2009. p.160.
2. Egamov Kh. Working with paints. T: Teacher. 1981. p.56
3. Bulatov S. Uzbek folk applied decorative art. T: Mekhnat. 1991.
4. Nabiev M. Chromatics. Tashkent: Teacher. 1996.
5. Nabiev M. Painting. Tashkent: Instructor, 1996
6. Nabiyev M. Coloring. Tashkent: Teacher. 1985. p.40.
7. Khasanov R. Works of fine arts. T.: Ghafur Ghulam Publishing House, 2009. 165 p.
8. Khasanov. R. Fundamentals of Fine Arts, Tashkent, 2009.
9. Shavkiyev E. Chromatics. Tashkent: Zamin publishing. 2020.