

THE ETYMOLOGY OF NICKNAMES IN DIALECTS AND THEIR USE IN A POSITIVE, NEGATIVE SENSE (ON THE EXAMPLE OF THE HAZORASP DISTRICT)

Ibragimova Zamira*; Abdullayeva Munisa

*Associate Professor,
Department of Uzbek linguistics,
Karakalpak State University named after Berdaq,
UZBEKISTAN

2-year Student of Uzbek Philology,
Karakalpak State University named after Berdaq,
UZBEKISTAN

DOI: 10.5958/2249-7137.2022.00195.1

ABSTRACT

We will strive to provide information about the abilities of studying the nicknames of representatives of the dialects Oguz and Kipchak who live in the Hazorasp District of the Khorezm region, as well as the reasons for their origin, etymology, good and bad elements of nicknames in this page. The practice of bestowing nicknames has a long history. The nickname is given to a person based on their physical appearance, their unique personality, their occupation, their flaws, and their customs.

KEYWORDS: The Etymology Of Nicknames And Nicknames, Positive And Negative Nicknames, Representatives Of Dialect, Ethnography, Onomastics, Human Character, Figurative Expression, Addition To The Name.

REFERENCES:

1. Begmatov E. Names and People. Tashkent; 1966. p.88
2. Begmatov E. Anthroponymy of the Uzbek language. Candidate diss.Tashkent; 1965. p.56.
3. Rashitova M. Takhallusvalakab. Theses of the Republican Conference of Greengrocers. Tashkent. 1995. p.56.
4. Abdullaev F. "Uzbek roaming Khorazmshevalari". Tashkent; 1961.p. 89-90.
5. Rakhmatullaev. Sh. "Uzbek-language etymological dictionary", Volume 3, Tashkent, University; 2009
6. Begmatov E. Uzbekanthroponymy. Tashkent: Fan; 1985
7. Mahmudov N, Khudoibergenova D. Intelligence of Uzbek language analogies. Tashkent. Spirituality; 2013.