

THE ROLE OF COMPUTER JARGON IN THE RUSSIAN LANGUAGE SYSTEM

Tashpulatova Muyassar Odilzhanovna*

*Lecture,

Department of Russian Linguistics at the Faculty of Philology,

Namangan State University, Namangan UZBEKISTAN

Email id: tashpulatova.m@mail.ru

DOI: 10.5958/2249-7137.2022.00220.8

ABSTRACT

The article discusses the influence of Internet slang on the modern Russian language, as well as the types and methods of forming slang on the Internet. Various opinions of scientists regarding this issue are considered, and what role do Internet slangs play, pollute or enrich the modern Russian language.

KEYWORDS: Internet slang, slang, borrowings, metamorphisms, abbreviations

REFERENCES:

1. Anishchenko OA. Evolution of youth speech designation: from technical language to jargon OA Anishchenko Questions of linguistics. 2009;(2):108-116.
2. Lyubitskaya EV. Slang: regional features and processes of anglicization: author. dis. ... Dr. Philol. Sciences. Stavropol, 2005. 24 p.
3. Shakhovsky VI. Humiliation by the language in the context of the modern communicative space of Russia. The world of the Russian word. 2007;(1-2):40-45.
4. Golovanova AI. Student slang as a functional variety of the Russian language Materials of the interuniversity student Internet conference. 2003.
5. Vinogradova NV. Computer slang and literary language: problems of competition. NV Vinogradova Studies in Slavic languages. 2001;(6):203-216.