

INDIA: NEED OF THIRD GENERATION HUMAN RIGHTS

Ms. Shikha Agrawal*; Dr. Simranjeet Kaur Sandhar

*Lecturer-HRM/Business Communications,
Swami Vivekanand College of Engineering,
Near Toll Naka, Khandwa Road Indore, INDIA
Email id: shikhajjw@gmail.com

Associate Professor,
Indore Institute of Science & Technology, Opposite IIM, Rau,
Indore, INDIA

Email id: sandhar_simranjeet@yahoo.co.in

DOI: 10.5958/2249-7137.2022.00510.9

ABSTRACT

This study is an itinerant exploration into dimensions, and perceptions of human rights in terms of delving into the areas of human rights which are less thought about and less spoken too. India, the world's most populous democracy, has a vibrant media, active civil society, a respected judiciary, and significant human rights problems. This paper focuses on need of third generation human rights in India that would include, Right of Life during Imprisonment , Transgender Human Rights and Human Right for prevention against Family Honor killing to name a few.

KEYWORDS: Third Generation Human Rights, Need, India

REFERENCES

- PULC – K 2003, “People Union for Civil Liberties Karnataka”, PUCL , September 2003
 - S.Krishnamurthy, Investigation of Human Rights Abuses Committed By Law Enforcement Agencies (Bangalore: R.R.Publishers,2003) at p.77
 - "Hundreds die of torture in India every year - report". Reuters. 2008-06-25. <http://in.reuters.com/article/idInIndia-34225620080625>
 - Malik, Saurabh. "Torture main reason of death in police custody". The Tribune. Archived from the original on 2009-03-31. <http://replay.web.archive.org/20090303182313/http://www.tribuneindia.com/2007/20070313/punjab1.htm>. Retrieved 2011-05-15.
 - Custodial deaths in West Bengal and India's refusal to ratify the Convention against Torture Asian Human Rights Commission 26 February 2004
 - Phyllis Chesler, ‘Hindu Honor Killings? Yes, In India’ June 29 2010
-