ABSTRACT

Nowadays, the importance and the number of PMOs (Project Management Office) are rising year by year. Many big organizations with simple or complex projects use PMOs in order to get successful results. However, for Uzbekistan it is new direction in organizations and before talk about its benefits it is important to know about PMO history and evolution, elaborating on what a PMO is and its categories according to its implementation. Each PMO model provides overall view about the projects and services across an organization or enterprise through a single or multiple office. It helps in decision making and delivery support for all business change within an organization.
